WINTER FASHION ACCESSORIES

The perfect purse, a colorful scarf, the right pair of earrings or even a fantastic pair of glasses can elevate an outfit to a whole new look or even make an old outfit look new. The economic downturn has perked up sales in the $16.3 billion fashion accessories market. Consumers are able to enjoy shopping without the guilty indulgence of a costly designer pair of jeans, by picking up fashion accessories that are much more budget friendly. The bottom line is no matter what the economic climate - accessories inspire impulse purchases. As a result, this virtually unstoppable market is projected to climb to $20.2 billion by 2012!
